Historic Charm Meets Endless Possibility in Kahala

Set over 13,500 square feet on Kahala Avenue, this rare and charming 1931 Tudor home awaits your vision.

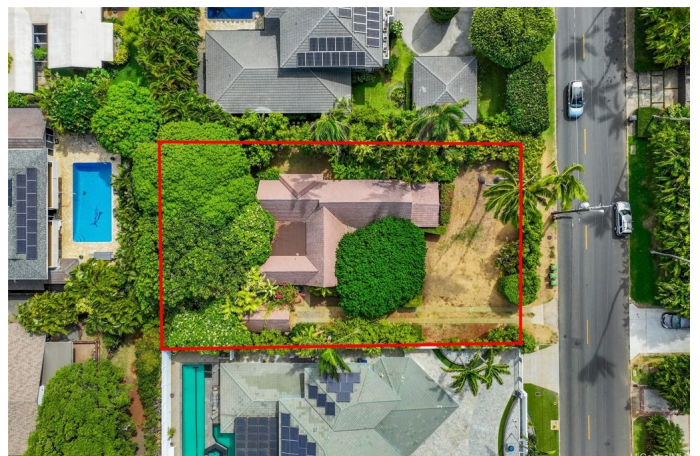

4354 Kahala Ave is one of only fifteen Tudor/French Norman cottages built in Hawai'i and is on the National Register of Historic Places. Its romantic half-timbered gables, shingled walls, casement windows, and soaring open-beam living room will delight you.

Its Historic designation ensures low property taxes ($300 a year), while the generous lot is ready for your imagination (whether you dream of additional living spaces, lush gardens, or a resort-style pool).

This rare home also offers the chance to live in Kahala — one of Honolulu's most prestigious neighborhoods. Just steps from the beach, near the Waialae Country Club, and minutes from world-class shopping and dining. It provides a lifestyle as extraordinary as its history.

For those with vision, this is a rare chance to restore a piece of architectural history and create a home that honors both the past and the prestige of Kahala living.

Built in 1935
