VOLCANO CYMBIDIUM ACRES, Volcano, HI

WOOD, & GLASS in the FOREST! This unique home is representative of the craftsman construction popular in Volcano. The original wing is attributed to former noted Volcano architect, Boone Morrison. His work always features an abundant use of wood and glass and craftsman workmanship.

Wood varieties include cedar shake siding, custom milled pine trim, cedar accent walls, oak flooring and ceilings of tongue & groove pine. The beautiful kitchen cabinets of Mango are fitted with custom pullout shelving allowing ease of access. More recently, engineered Koa flooring was installed in new wing of living area & 3 bedrooms. Sellers have maintained the home in excellent condition. In 2013 a Green feature, 25 PV Solar panels, was added to the roof. This owned system net meters to Hawaii Electric, providing affordable electricity to charge your electric car and the perimeter fence to deter pigs! The 360-sf shop off the carport is a true "man cave" with 110 & 220 outlets and a Stage 2 electric vehicle charging station. High speed internet is available via Spectrum cable. Gardeners will appreciate the green houses and raised garden beds. A fenced side yard is perfect for pets or children. Thoughtful clearing was done at time of construction leaving much of the forest in natives. Invasives have been cleared out allowing you to enjoy the native canopy of Ohia and Hapu'u tree ferns. Life is good in cool Volcano, an active community of artists, scientists, professionals and retirees. Hawaii Volcanos National Park offers hiking and lava viewing. Volcano School of Arts & Science offers a quality education from Pre-K through High School. County fire & ambulance response is within 5 miles, which insurance companies like. You will love the convenience of 2 Farmer Markets each week and activities at the Art Center or Cooper Center. So much to do, so little time!
